DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Applicant's election without traverse of invention I (claims 1-7) in the reply filed on 02/24/2005 is acknowledged.

Priority

Receipt is acknowledged of papers submitted under 35 U.S.C. 119(a)-(d), which papers have been placed of record in the file.

Specification

The abstract of the disclosure is objected to because applicant needs to delete the last line of the abstract "(Figure 3)". Correction is required. See MPEP § 608.01(b).

The disclosure is objected to because of the following informalities: each single figure needs to be described separately on the "Brief Description of The Drawings".

Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1, 2, 6, and 7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Stahlecker (6,230,472).

Art Unit: 3721

Stahlecker discloses a capping head for application of caps on bottles or containers, wherein it comprises a casing having an end mouth designed to fit on the bottle or container so as to define a closed chamber (via chamber 8), within which there is enclosed the head (via holding device 20), and means for connecting said closed chamber (8) with a source of vacuum (via 28) for the purpose of communicating said vacuum to the space inside the bottle or container before the end of application of the cap on the bottle or container (column 4, lines 5-7).

Regarding claim 2: wherein the casing (8) is mounted on the structure of the capping head (20) with interposition of rolling bearings and has its end mouth made in an end wall that is elastically compliant within the casing (via activating rod 21).

Regarding claim 6: wherein the end mouth of the casing (8) is provided with a seal ring (via 20').

Regarding claim 7: wherein it comprises one or more capping heads (via one capping head 20).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 3-5 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Stahlecker (6,230,472).

Stahlecker does not disclose that the connection means for connecting the closed chamber with a source of vacuum comprise valve means set between the structure of the casing and the structure of the capping head; wherein the valve means comprise a valve body rigidly connected to the casing and mounted with the possibility of axial sliding with respect to a valve element and has two opposite operating positions, which it connects a chamber communicating with the space inside the casing to an opening for connection with the source of vacuum and in the other of which it connects the chamber to an opening for connection to a discharge. The examiner takes an official notice that with any vacuum source connected to a device it is a must to have a valve; this is old, well known, and available in the art in order to control the force of the vacuum. About the exact location and connection of the valve in respect to the device and vacuum source, it is a matter of engineering design choice to place the vacuum source and valve in the best way and efficient in respect to the device.

Therefore, it would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to have modified Stahlecker's capping device with valve means connected and installed in the device with respect to the vacuum source as a matter of engineering design choice, in order to control the force of vacuum in respect to the chamber.
